Million Women Mentor (MWM)

- National call to action and engagement campaign to mobilize 1 million science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) stakeholders to mentor young girls and women in STEM fields.
- Increase interest and confidence of girls and young women to persist and succeed in STEM programs and careers by developing mentoring relationships with STEM professionals, both men and women.
- Increase the number of girls planning for STEM careers from 13% to 20%.

Did you know?

- Women hold almost half of all jobs in the U.S. but less than 25% of women have a career in STEM.
- Of those that do have a STEM career, 74 % are white, 17% are Asian, and 9% are listed as “other minorities.”
- The gender wage gap is the narrowest in STEM careers. Women earn .92 cents to men’s $1.
- 74% of STEM careers are filled by men; only 26% are filled by women and only 3 of the 12 women (out of 100) who earn STEM bachelors degrees stay in the field for 10 or more years.

If I can see it, I can believe it and I can be it!

“You can’t be what you don’t see. I didn’t think about being a doctor. I didn’t even think about being a clerk in a store—I’d never seen a black clerk in a clothing store.”

~Dr. Jocelyn Elders, 15th Surgeon General of the United States and first African American woman to hold the position
